

ABSTRACT

An electric deep frying appliance adapted for the heating of cooking oil comprising a bowl and heating assembly; said heating assembly including a heat
5 distributor wherein said heat distributor is in the form of an annular dished member; said heating assembly further including a control pylon adapted to provide power and temperature control to said heat distributor.